

Regeneration.

Published every Saturday at 914 Bosto St., Los Angeles, Cal.

Subscription rates: 6 months, $6.00; 1 year, $11.00.

No. 112. Saturday, October 12, 1912.

All Caught In Net of Land Monopoly

An old country, such as England, and a revolutionary country, such as Mexico...

Ever since the execution of Charles I, which takes us back nearly three hundred years...

On the other hand, it seems to me that the feudal lords of Mexico have been personally a contemptible lot.

Protection" is only this feudal system under another name, dressed out in new togas to suit the fashion of the times.

When the Chinese Republic, and is an economic revolutionist, has written a remarkable article which translates from "Le Mouvement Socialiste" the says: "If, at the outset of the career of our Chinese Republic, we do not take thought to defend ourselves against the establishment of capitalism, then in the very near future a new despotism, a hundred times more terrible than that of the Manchus, awaits us, and rivers of blood will be required for our deliverance."

The Old Toryism in Great Britain has ruled for centuries. The Old Toryism in this country has ruled rather more than half a century.

The Old Toryism in Great Britain has ruled for centuries. The Old Toryism in this country has ruled rather more than half a century.

Nevertheless, no man or set of men, however able, can stand long against the spirit of the times. Evolution will have its way and Democracy eventually will find itself.

Mexico also has been until quite recently in the feudal stage, but it seems to me that the difference between England and Mexico has been not so much a difference between the governed as between the governing classes.

On the other hand, it seems to me that the feudal lords of Mexico have been personally a contemptible lot. When they had no conception of any other than the hacienda life, they treated their serfs as no civilized man will treat his cattle.

When the Chinese Republic, and is an economic revolutionist, has written a remarkable article which translates from "Le Mouvement Socialiste" the says: "If, at the outset of the career of our Chinese Republic, we do not take thought to defend ourselves against the establishment of capitalism, then in the very near future a new despotism, a hundred times more terrible than that of the Manchus, awaits us, and rivers of blood will be required for our deliverance."

Samuel Untermyer, head of the Trust attorney Mafia, has been giving his views on what are called, ironically, Progressive Platforms.

Veracruz Captured Madero Faces New Peril

Felix Diaz, nephew of Porfirio, the former president, has captured Vera Cruz, which is Mexico's most important harbor.

The "Times" bulletin boards of Oct. 16, which are posted throughout Los Angeles, blazed with a statement to the effect that Taft was believed to have given Madero notice that he must restore order by Oct. 18, or abdicate.

Nevertheless, such suppressive ability as Madero may have possessed seems to grow steadily less. On the heels of the desertion of Gen. Aguilar has come that of Gen. Felix Diaz, nephew of Porfirio.

"Current Literature" probably hits the nail on the head when it says, "seclusion from the foreign world seems to have become the main purpose of Madero's existence."

The European press has been discussing most actively the probability of intervention by the United States, not neglecting to dwell on the fact that it will be the task of putting down nationwide guerrilla operations and that such a campaign must, of necessity, be long and costly, both in blood and treasure.

Socialists Reject Haywood's Resolution, Etton and Giovanitti League Shows True Solidarity

Through our ignorance of Socialist procedure we have erred in the matter of Haywood's resolution calling for a general strike in case of intervention in Mexico.

Haywood and Irvine voted in favor of the resolution. Harriman, Hillquit and Spargo voted against it.

Resolved, that we warn the powers at Washington that any attempt to suppress the righteous revolt of the Mexican people against cruel and tyrannical taskmasters will, by creating a feeling of contempt for any administration so doing, cause the smouldering embers of revolutionary sentiment in the United States to be fanned into full flame.

Resolved, that we warn the powers at Washington that any attempt to suppress the righteous revolt of the Mexican people against cruel and tyrannical taskmasters will, by creating a feeling of contempt for any administration so doing, cause the smouldering embers of revolutionary sentiment in the United States to be fanned into full flame.

Resolved, that we warn the powers at Washington that any attempt to suppress the righteous revolt of the Mexican people against cruel and tyrannical taskmasters will, by creating a feeling of contempt for any administration so doing, cause the smouldering embers of revolutionary sentiment in the United States to be fanned into full flame.

Resolved, that we warn the powers at Washington that any attempt to suppress the righteous revolt of the Mexican people against cruel and tyrannical taskmasters will, by creating a feeling of contempt for any administration so doing, cause the smouldering embers of revolutionary sentiment in the United States to be fanned into full flame.

Resolved, that we warn the powers at Washington that any attempt to suppress the righteous revolt of the Mexican people against cruel and tyrannical taskmasters will, by creating a feeling of contempt for any administration so doing, cause the smouldering embers of revolutionary sentiment in the United States to be fanned into full flame.

Resolved, that we warn the powers at Washington that any attempt to suppress the righteous revolt of the Mexican people against cruel and tyrannical taskmasters will, by creating a feeling of contempt for any administration so doing, cause the smouldering embers of revolutionary sentiment in the United States to be fanned into full flame.

In Deadly Parallel

Socialists Reject Haywood's Resolution, Etton and Giovanitti League Shows True Solidarity

Through our ignorance of Socialist procedure we have erred in the matter of Haywood's resolution calling for a general strike in case of intervention in Mexico.

Haywood and Irvine voted in favor of the resolution. Harriman, Hillquit and Spargo voted against it.

Resolved, that we warn the powers at Washington that any attempt to suppress the righteous revolt of the Mexican people against cruel and tyrannical taskmasters will, by creating a feeling of contempt for any administration so doing, cause the smouldering embers of revolutionary sentiment in the United States to be fanned into full flame.

Resolved, that we warn the powers at Washington that any attempt to suppress the righteous revolt of the Mexican people against cruel and tyrannical taskmasters will, by creating a feeling of contempt for any administration so doing, cause the smouldering embers of revolutionary sentiment in the United States to be fanned into full flame.

Resolved, that we warn the powers at Washington that any attempt to suppress the righteous revolt of the Mexican people against cruel and tyrannical taskmasters will, by creating a feeling of contempt for any administration so doing, cause the smouldering embers of revolutionary sentiment in the United States to be fanned into full flame.

Resolved, that we warn the powers at Washington that any attempt to suppress the righteous revolt of the Mexican people against cruel and tyrannical taskmasters will, by creating a feeling of contempt for any administration so doing, cause the smouldering embers of revolutionary sentiment in the United States to be fanned into full flame.

Resolved, that we warn the powers at Washington that any attempt to suppress the righteous revolt of the Mexican people against cruel and tyrannical taskmasters will, by creating a feeling of contempt for any administration so doing, cause the smouldering embers of revolutionary sentiment in the United States to be fanned into full flame.

Resolved, that we warn the powers at Washington that any attempt to suppress the righteous revolt of the Mexican people against cruel and tyrannical taskmasters will, by creating a feeling of contempt for any administration so doing, cause the smouldering embers of revolutionary sentiment in the United States to be fanned into full flame.

THE PANAMA CANAL

Politics, personal politics, the only kind of politics to which the United States has been able as yet to rise.

In England, "Punch" leads the way with two cartoons, one representing Uncle Sam as blocking the entrance to the canal, and the other depicting the eagle as declaring that it is not a "virtue and refusing to swallow 'Republican Treaties'."

The "Independence Belge" declares that the force of the Monroe doctrine has been materially weakened, and this is the general attitude of the German and a portion of the English press, which considers that Europe has now a perfect right to reconsider its position with respect to Central and South American affairs.

In St. Petersburg the influential "Novoye Vremya" explains that Russia, not being a sea power, has no personal interest in the question, but it is "aghast at the indifference of the Americans to their reputation abroad."

All this is making for the triumph of the Mexican Revolution as nothing else could. It has heated to fever pitch the distrust of American plutocratic aggressiveness; a distrust that is very actual and smoulders incessantly.

Roosevelt's Assault. For fully two months past the "Los Angeles Daily Times" has been assailing Roosevelt with every possible epithet it could make out of its dictionary of invective.

If you are going to hold writers and agitators, who stir up discontent, answerable for the deeds of others unknown to them—according to the infamous precedent created in the execution of the Chicago Anarchists—you should do the thing thoroughly and do it right.

"Syrops of all flavors." Conservatism, Socialism, Initiative and Referendum, Federal Control, Votes for Women, Recall of Judges, Special Labor Privileges, Recall of Decisions, Commission Rule, Race Suicide Question." It is the picture of a soda fountain bar, with Roosevelt as the young man behind the counter, asking smilingly "What's Yours?"

The so-called "good politician" is but the connecting link between the "bad politician" and the "working class."