USSR Entry Into IFTU Is Barred

Woll and Citrine Lead In Blocking Union Affiliation

By a vote of 16 to 4 the general council of the International Federation of Trade Unions, meeting in Oslo, Norway, last week, rejected an application for affiliation by the trade unions of the U.S.S.R.

The vote came after two days of debate in which opposition to the Soviet application was led by Sir Walter Citrine of the British General Council of the Trade Union Congress, seconded by Matthew Woll of the American Federation of Labor. The minority vote was registered by the delegation from Spain and Mexico and two from France. Norway did not vote.

Soviet Isolation Increased

Rejection of the Soviet application by the I.F.T.U., which was followed by a decision to terminate negotiations with the Soviet unions, represents one more step toward completion of the isolation of the Soviet Union for which the policies of the Stalin regime are responsible. Isolation from the working class movement in the outside world tion of the Soviet Union amid the capitalist states whose de- ed, as were the Soviets themmocratic half Stalin has been so selves. One can say without exaggeration that nearly every progressive, every honest union official, in District Council No. 9 is today unalterably opposed to the their clients) are as thick as Stalinist Weinstock administration. When one remembers that all these people were in the vanguard of the fight against corrupt administrations in the past, that almost every one of them at one time or another lent his confidence and his trust to the Weinstock crowd, this fact becomes all the more impressive.

No honest, progressive, devoted union member finds it possible to work with the Stalinists in the painters union today.

Why? The answer may be summed up briefly from the point of view of the average painter in the union:

Conditions in Industry

1. Conditions in the industry, instead of improving under Weinstock's domination, are worse than ever before. Kick - back flourishes to such an extent that the official wage of $10.50 per day has become a bitter joke for the painter making an actual wage of $7-$8.
