

The inhabitants would be spared the distress that is bound to be there in the next five years, regardless of the outcome of the present election.

As it is, the masses are leaning to think, and with the right leadership, much can be salvaged from the chaos that is bound to result in the ~~next~~ <sup>near future</sup> ~~five years~~.

It is to be hoped that the comrades abroad will assist in the forming of an organization by donations of literature etc. and that connecting links be forged with the islands and mainland in the revolutionary movement.
